December 16th, and each Sunday thereafter for twenty-five weeks, will be received with gratification. In seeking some one equipped to do this work in keeping with the subject's merits and its own ideal, The Times-Dispatch counts itself fortunate in finding available the services of such men as Drs. Chandler and Thames. Both adapted by temperament and being richer in this particular field of knowledge than any other men in America, they have brought again to a newness of life the romances and mighty deeds of the chivalric great, male and femaler who thought and wrought in the gray twilight of an hundred thousand yesterdays. No invention of the imagination could produce a more dramatic story-a story filled with pitiless suffering, treachery, starvation, savage assassination, intrigue, adventure as romantic as any knight ever rode to, hatreds of satanic bitternss, and loves the idyllies of the human race, together with formative thoughts of empire builders-than is told here. Here is related the story of the begetting of human liberty. It should be made a part of the course in every school

We waive the banner of supremacy because our merchandise stamps us as leaders. Our strength lies in the workmanship and the cut of our garments-our power in the selection of our fabrics. We are winners because we deserve it.

The Union Thanksgiving services of the West End Baptist churches were held in the Calvary Baptist Church yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. The Rev. C. E. Stuart, of the Venable-Street Baptist Church, preached the serimon, taking for his text Romans, xil., it. 'I beseen you, therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God.
